Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer image file depicts a sexualised image of two naked boys. The image exploits the nudity of children or young persons to such a degree that its availability is likely to be injurious to the public good. The classification of objectionable interferes with the right to freedom of expression as set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990, however the decision is reasonable, justified and in accordance with the law. It is consistent with Parliament's intention that publications which exploit the nudity of children and young persons in a manner that renders their availability likely to be injurious to the public good will be banned.
